

Volunteer Guide Team launched

9 May

A new Volunteer Guide Team at the Women's and Children's Hospital was launched on 9 May, coinciding with National Volunteer Week.

The guide team is a response to consumer needs and the Women's and Children's Health Network's approach to person and family centred care.

The team will play a role in supporting visitors and consumers, directing or guiding them to places and facilities within the hospital.

Guides can be easily identified by their teal-coloured shirts and purple coloured lanyards.

The Women's and Children's Health Network is blessed to be supported by a strong volunteer group. They are an integral part of our service delivery and critical to the work we do. Thanks to everyone who volunteers their time to support us, both in the hospital and our community services.

To find out more about volunteering at the Women's and Children's Health Network, go to <http://www.wch.sa.gov.au/support/volunteer/index.html> .